ORW signs up to support the 2009 MDR McMillin Superstition Series.

With the 2009 season opener coming, so are some new changes with the MDR McMillin Superstition Series. One of those changes is the addition of having companies sponsor the Check Points and Road Crossings. ORW (Off-Road Warehouse) has signed to be a Check Point sponsor for the whole 2009 McMillin Superstition Series. Not only will the Check Points be marked by a number, but they will now be labeled by the company that has chosen to sponsor that Check Point. At the ORW Check Point you will see two banners placed at the front of the Check Point as you enter the flags. The money that Check Points and Road Crossings bring in will go to help fund the Volunteer program that is been put in place for 2009. Between the Check Point sponsors and the 50/50 raffle that has become a tradition at the MDR Drawing Parties, MDR should have more to offer the volunteers that help support the 2009 season.

In addition to ORW's support of a Check Point, ORW has also chosen to continue their Contingency program for the 2009 McMillin Superstition Series.
