

March 16, 2010

Slime Tire Sealant sign's up to support the 2010 MDR McMillin Superstition Series.

For the 2010 MDR McMillin Superstition Series, Slime has signed to be a Check Point sponsor and Contingent sponsor for the whole 2010 season. This will be Slime's second year supporting the MDR McMillin Superstition Series and the extra exposure that both the Plaster City valley and MDR will bring Slime is exciting. Plaster City is known for being some of the roughest terrain in Southern California and many teams use this valley as a test location for their equipment. Most know that one flat tire at a MDR Superstition race can be the difference between winning the race and coming in 5th. With Slime's support this year we hope to see fewer races decided by a single flat tire.

At the Slime Check Point you will see the green Slime banner placed at the front of the Check Point as you enter the flags. The money that these sponsored Check Points and Road Crossings bring to MDR will go to help fund the Volunteer program that is been put in place for 2010. Between the Check Point sponsors and the 50/50 raffle that has become a tradition at the MDR Drawing Parties, MDR should have more to offer the volunteers that help support the 2010 season.

In addition to Slime's support of a Check Point. Slime has also signed up to be a contingent sponsor and will give away Slime product to those teams who win running the Slime decals.

For more information please go to www.mdracing.com or www.slime.com